

Authors and their books

Vertical:

1. Art Spiegelman's book about his father's experiences as a Polish Jew during the Holocaust
3. The mother of Frankenstein (and his monster) (2 words)
4. A series about a boy who became a wizard (2 words)
7. The race of the main character in the series the Lord of the Rings
10. Russian author who wrote Anna Karenina and War and Peace
12. The title of a series of comics about blue creatures

Horizontal:

2. The book How to kill a Mockingbird was banned in certain school districts because it talked about which subject?
5. British poet who is credited with having first documented thousands of English words
6. Her personal journal, written in Amsterdam, has been read millions of times (2 words)
8. The Swedish equivalent of the Goncourt prize for literature
9. His first demand, according to Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, was to please draw a sheep. And that you redraw it, please. (2 words)
11. Hero of Ancient Greece, according to the Iliad and the Odyssey
13. Series of YA books in which a girl falls in love with a vampire
14. The world of Aslan that exists beyond a wardrobe

Authors and their books

Vertical:

1. Art Spiegelman's book about his father's experiences as a Polish Jew during the Holocaust
3. The mother of Frankenstein (and his monster) (2 words)
4. A series about a boy who became a wizard (2 words)
7. The race of the main character in the series the Lord of the Rings
10. Russian author who wrote Anna Karenina and War and Peace
12. The title of a series of comics about blue creatures

Horizontal:

2. The book How to kill a Mockingbird was banned in certain school districts because it talked about which subject?
5. British poet who is credited with having first documented thousands of English words
6. Her personal journal, written in Amsterdam, has been read millions of times (2 words)
8. The Swedish equivalent of the Goncourt prize for literature
9. His first demand, according to Antoine de Saint-Exupéry, was to please draw a sheep. And that you redraw it, please. (2 words)
11. Hero of Ancient Greece, according to the Iliad and the Odyssey
13. Series of YA books in which a girl falls in love with a vampire
14. The world of Aslan that exists beyond a wardrobe